This user-friendly book is tailor-made to suit the needs of water supply companies. Your Water is now being used by eight water companies in the UK and Ireland. Each edition is tailor-made to suit the needs of the company: we insert your company details where the text is marked in red (see online sample pages), edit the text, and add other information and PR messages if required. We can also change the filtration system if necessary.

This book is being used to:

- Educate domestic customers in the need for sensible water use in a cost-effective way.
- Promote the benefits and encourage the take-up of water meters.
- Provide a lasting source of helpful information for the householder.

If you would like sample copies, wish to discuss content and/or layout, translated or bilingual editions, or would like to discuss this book further, please phone Jon Clift on 01803 863283 or email jclift@greenbooks.co.uk.
